Sightseeing Tour and Dinner Tonight Planned for Visitors En Route to Eastern States.

Another link in the bonds of friendship being established between Atlanta and Cuba was forged Monday when a party of nearly 150 school teachers of the neighboring nation disembarked at the Terminal station and were greeted by fellow teachers of the Atlanta schools and local civic leaders who have been prominent in the growth of the entente cordiale. Official welcome was extended to the visitors by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and Colonel J. C. Woodward, of the Georgia Military Academy, in the ballroom of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, where the visiting teachers were taken directly from the special train that brought them to Atlanta from Key West.

Headed by Dr. Rene Perez Abreu, superintendent of education for Cuba, the party is en route to Washington and the east on a sightseeing and goodwill tour. Due to the close relationship and exchange of courtesies that already exist between the residents of Cuba and Atlanta, the party of school teachers changed its itinerary to include a stop-over in Atlanta upon invitation from local officials. A highlight of the entertainment program arranged for the Cuban educators was a theater party Monday night at the Paramount theater, where the entire group of visitors were welcomed as guests of Willard Patterson, district manager of Paramount pictures.

An elaborate sightseeing trip has been arranged for today. With more than 40 cars provided by the school teachers of Atlanta, and other vehicles available if needed, the sightseers will start at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and visit Druid Hills, the Bass Junior High school, Grant Park, federal prison, the Georgia Military Academy at College Park, the South-eastern Fair grounds, Candler field, Fort McPherson and other points of interest.

As guests of the Coca-Cola Company, the party will be entertained at 6:30 o'clock tonight with a dinner at the Davidson-Paxon tearoom. Among those who greeted the Cubans upon their arrival Monday in addition to the mayor and Colonel Woodward, were Miss Allie B. Mann, president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association, with a large committee of the teachers; Superintendent Willis A. Sutton; Dr. Herbert Kennedy and Maynard B. Smith, chairman and vice chairman of the Chamber of Commerce service committee; B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the chamber, and Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, who arranged to have Atlanta-grown flowers in the hotel rooms of the party.

After disembarking from their special train at the Terminal station Monday, the party was escorted to the Biltmore by a squad of motorcycle police and the Atlanta Police band.

CRIME TANGLE HANDED CHICAGO GRAND JURY

Investigating Body To Study Rumored Connection of Gang With Police.

CHICAGO, July 7.—(AP)—Inquisition into the month-old assassination of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Tribune reporter, and the sinister rumors of alliances between crime and police which followed it was begun today by a new grand jury.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson announced shortly after the new grand jury was sworn he would summon Harry T. Brundage, a St. Louis newspaperman, to specify charges he had made that other reporters besides Lingle had alliances with gangsters. He did not say whether he would take the Missouriian before the grand jury.

Brundage, in articles printed in the St. Louis Star, charged that Lingle was not the only Chicago newspaperman making money out of "rackets." He said he had information a Chicago Daily News reporter was "soon to get his."

Leland H. Reese, Daily News crime reporter who is recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile wreck which he said was an attempt to kill him at DeKalb, Ill., averred that he had supposed himself the reporter mentioned in the St. Louis article.

Reese said that while he was driving west from Chicago early Friday, another auto, which had followed his, deliberately forced his car off the road and caused it to overturn in a ditch. He was riding with Allen Finlay and Ed Braun, the former a special guard of the reporter for several weeks.

"On Thursday, July 3," Reese wrote, "I received a really definite message that I was to be attacked and beaten, if not killed. This tip did not come by anonymous letter as do most of the threats received in newspaper offices. Nor did it emanate, as do most of those threats from the usual gangland sources. It suggested an attack from quite another source."

Declaring that every reporter assigned to "get inside facts on gang murders" inevitably hears himself accused of dishonesty, Reese asserted: "I have never received money from any illegitimate source at any time in my life."

Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, said he would ask the (Chicago) Tribune, Chicago Herald and Examiner and Chicago Evening Post to set aside $10,000 of the $35,000 reward offered by them for information leading to the conviction of the slayer of Lingle for a tip of the identity of the actual slayer.

Could Obtain Tip. Roche said there are men in the underworld who would furnish a tip for $10,000 but who would not dare go into a courtroom and accuse a man even for as much as $100,000. Once the identity of the slayer was known, Roche pointed out, the actual witnesses to the slaying could make the proper identification before a jury.

One gangster, Frankie Foster, is already under indictment for the slaying, and is held in Los Angeles. A writ of habeas corpus for his release was obtained today, automatically delaying extradition to Illinois.

Another, Patsy Tardi, a West Side hoodlum who is left-handed and blond, was arrested today. Witnesses have said the slayer of Lingle was a blond and a silk glove supposedly discarded by the slayer at the scene was for the left hand.

Still another, "Dago Lawrence" Mangano, West Side gambler and racketeer, was apprehended for questioning in the Lingle inquiry, presumably because of his gambling connections. Lingle, it has been charged, made a practice of "shaking down" gambling houses and, if they refused to pay, would report them to police.

The remaining counts, upon which Capone will be tried in criminal court, were that he perjured himself in his testimony that he had been denied food and blankets while he was in the city jail May 8 and that he had not been allowed to communicate with his attorneys or relatives by telephone.

CHICAGO, July 7.—(AP)—William Allen, western traffic manager for the United States Lines, has announced that contracts had been awarded for the construction of the largest liner ever built in the United States. One of sister ships to be built, the vessel under contract will be 31,000 gross tonnage and will cost $21,000,000, Allen said. He added that the line planned a $90,000,000 building program for the next few years.

Patman Urges Probe Of Means' Allegation

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—Investigation of charges made by Gaston B. Means in a recent book was urged today by Representative Patman, democrat, Texas, in a statement prepared for publication in the Congressional Record.

Two Perjury Counts Beaten by Capone

MIAMI, Fla., July 7.—(AP)—Two of four perjury charges against Scarface Al Capone were quashed by Criminal Court Judge E. C. Collins here today, following argument by the gangster's attorney.

Trial of the other two charges, which had been set for Tuesday, was postponed until Wednesday.

County Solicitor George McCaskill said he planned to file two new perjury charges immediately to replace those quashed by Judge Collins.

The charges grew out of Capone's testimony in a case in which his attorneys charged he had been falsely arrested May 8 by S. D. McCreary, public safety director of Miami.

Judge Collins quashed the charges

Hers to Command

An army to set her table

When the housewife tells A & P her needs—by her purchases in its stores—an army of men, trained to obey her will, stands at command.

And because great numbers of women who like good things and good values trade in A & P stores, the order of one housewife becomes the order of many. A vast association of housewives, A & P's customers, thus grows out of a single aim—good food at least cost.

The whole A & P army is at their command, and the buying of all these housewives—massed to serve each—gives to all the pick of every crop, of every food.

Growers and manufacturers know that only their best products at fair prices will satisfy this large body of consumers. In return, these industries are assured of regular sale of their goods.

So the housewife who shops at A & P is certain of the best; while her steady, thrifty buying supports honest food industries in every part of the country.

In shopping to her own advantage, she is helping the food producer.

Akron Bag Drifts 850 Miles To Win National Balloon Race

Drews of Two Balloons Tell of Being Fired on While Passing Over Arkansas.

HOUSTON, Texas, July 7.—(AP)—J. Blair, a former navy yard worker, who used to handle a rivet gun, and Frank Trotter, a 29-year-old student aeronaut, today were declared the unofficial victors in the national elimination balloon race which got underway here Friday.

In the Akron, Ohio, entrant, Goodyear-Zeppelin, they traveled the greatest distance—some 850 miles. Blair, who used to work in the Bremerton navy yards, brought the Goodyear-Zeppelin down late yesterday at Greensburg, Ky.

The winner will not be officially designated until the National Aeronautic Association at Washington has checked all photographs and announced its verdict.

Captain Fred S. Wilbur, of the race committee, said his calculations showed the Akron Times, E. J. Hill, pilot, and A. C. Schlosser, aide, as having been in second place with some 700 miles to its credit.

Blair and Trotter and Hill and Schlosser, if the N. A. A. holds with the local committee, will compete along with Ward Van Orman as the American team in the international race September 1 at Cleveland. Van Orman won the international last year and did not have to compete in the elimination race this year.

The United Van Service balloon of Cleveland, piloted by George Hinman with Milford Vanik as aide, ran a close race with the Akron Times, both landing in Kentucky. Captain Wilbur estimated that the Cleveland victory finished in third place with an estimated 685 miles.

The navy balloon piloted by Lieutenant T. G. W. Settle, with 640 miles, placed fourth. Lieutenant J. C. Mayer was on the long trip with Settle.

The unofficial compilation showed Lieutenants W. Bushnell and J. A. Greenwald, in the navy, in fifth place, 550 miles, and army Lieutenants W. D. Buie and J. P. Kidwell sixth with 400 miles.

For 10 of the 15 balloons in the race, a thundercloud which hung low over the Texarkana area Saturday, was the end of the voyage.

They fought to the last, dumping clothing, food and in one case even a part of the basket in trying to stay aloft.

Blair and Trotter encountered enough of this trouble themselves, but managed to stick it out by throwing away their food and some of their clothing.

The Aero Digest of New York and the United Van—had to dodge bullets. The United Van was punctured once by a bullet from the gun of a farmer in Arkansas who fired a volley at the bag. The Aero Digest was fired on unsuccessfully near Conroe, Texas.

Some observers were inclined to believe that an insulated covering used when inflating the Goodyear-Zeppelin, allowing it to take on more gas than an unprotected one, had much to do with its victory.

Pryor St. Building Damaged by Blaze

Fire which started on the roof of the Kitching building at Pryor and Mitchell streets late Monday night damaged storerooms and offices occupied by tenants in an amount estimated at $3,000. The Atlanta Cap Company, with quarters on the sixth floor, was the heaviest loser.

The first five floors of the main building were occupied by W. Kutz & Co., dress goods merchants, who suffered a slight water damage in their packing and shipping department on the fifth floor. The Princess Manufacturing Company and the Crescent Manufacturing, both firms suffered slight damage.

An engineering office of the Southern Bell Telephone Company and the office of the Gershon Printing Company, on the sixth floor of the main building, suffered comparatively slight damage.

Origin of the fire, which four companies battled for nearly an hour before extinguishing the flames, was said to be undetermined.

Burns' Parole Plea Comes Up Thursday

A second application for a parole by Robert Elliott Burns, Georgia prisoner on escape who became prosperous as a magazine publisher in Chicago before he was recaptured, will come before the Georgia prison board Thursday.

Burns was originally sentenced to a seven-year term from Atlanta, where he was convicted of a holdup in which only a second escape, shortly afterwards he escaped from the Campbell county chain gang.

Burns wandered to Chicago, where he became identified with two magazine publishers, and later with a syndicate. He leaped into national prominence when a former wife notified officials of his whereabouts, and he fought extradition seeking to return him to this state to complete his unexpired term.

Last fall an effort by his mother, Mrs. Eula Mae Burns, to secure his parole failed. In his present application Burns cites his record as a model prisoner.

Alabama Negro Sought In Race Riot Jailed

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 7.—(AP)—Jacob Robertson, negro, alleged to have been implicated in the shooting to death of Grover Boyd at Emelle July 4, was in Kilby prison tonight. He was arrested by state law enforcement officers who had been conducting a search for three fugitives since the clash between whites and negroes last Friday when four persons were killed. Jacob's twin brother, Esau, was hanged to a tree after his brother is alleged to have killed Boyd, a white man.

Robertson, it was learned from State Law Enforcement Officer E. Peter Smith, who brought him to Kilby, was arrested across the line in Mississippi. He said the negro made no resistance to arrest and did not raise objection to being returned to Alabama.

Governor Bibb Graves said the state officer told him quiet had been restored at Emelle and that feeling was not nearly as intense as it was Saturday when the first group of state officers arrived there.

Work Is Begun On Boulder Dam

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—A line of white stakes, glistening in the desert sun, stretched across the wasteland of southern Nevada today toward the brink of Black canyon, marking the first day's work on an engineering project so immense that the flamboyant adjectives of the circus have been called upon to describe it.

They traced across the desert the path over which trains soon will be lumbering with materials to the construction town that now is a mere bundle of stakes, three miles from the rugged canyon walls that tower high above the muddy waters of the Colorado.

Here, in the words of the Interior department and Secretary Wilbur, the work which was begun today is to blossom into "the most stupendous cement structure in the world," an undertaking that will "make new geography and start a new era," signifying "our national conquest over the great American desert."

Georgian Arrested As Ohio Gunman

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 7.—(AP)—Emmett D. Kirgan, chief of Cincinnati detectives, today said two men arrested on charges of carrying concealed weapons, confessed to him that their arrest prevented the slaying of a Cincinnati bootlegger and his son.

The men arrested were Rastall Mangione, alias Dago Funk, 32, no home, and Joseph Dunbar, 28, Savannah, Ga.

Kirgan said the men told him they came here to recover two automobile loads of bootleg liquor stolen from them near Savannah or else kill the thieves.

Both men were held for further investigation.

Kirgan said Mangione served a sentence in Kentucky prison for aiding in the robbery of a Lexington (Ky.) haberdashery on July 30, 1928.

1,001st Arrest Not News, Says Preacher Peas

Wearied of arguing with the police and judges, Palmer Peas, 65-year-old negro who was facing the usual charge for the 1,001st time Monday afternoon, engaged in a lengthy debate with a newspaperman over news values.

"It was news," the former negro preacher, recently turned 65, complained, "when I was arrested the 1,000th time. But it ain't news no more. I don't want my name in the papers no mo'."

Peas was arrested late Saturday by Patrolman J. B. Hightower. As usual, he was released upon his own recognizance when he had sobered up. As usual, he showed up in recorder's court according to police instructions. As usual, Judge Murphy Holloway gave him 15 days in the stockade.

SENATOR BLACK ASKS PARTY REGULARITY

Alabama Solon Issues Statement Urging Heavy Primary Vote.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—Alabama democrats were urged in a formal statement by Senator Black, democrat, Alabama, to vote for the party candidates at the forthcoming fall elections.

Black's colleague, Senator Heflin, democrat, is running for the senate as an independent, having been barred from the democratic primary for his opposition to Alfred E. Smith, democratic candidate in the presidential election.

"Alabama is now and will remain a democratic state," Black said. "The party has led us far in moral, educational and economic progress. There should be no division of these forces that have contributed so much to the common good. Democrats who are patriotically interested in the continued progress of the state, along the lines they believe best for the whole people will throw away their opportunity and lose their voice as to general state policies, if they fail to vote for the democratic candidates of their choice in the party primary."

Black's statement said: "It is my belief that it is of vital importance to the progress and development of Alabama that we have a full vote of the democrats in the August primary. We shall then name those who are to serve as our tax assessors and collectors, legislators, state senators, sheriffs, judges and prosecuting attorneys. We shall also nominate candidates for attorney-general, public service commissioners, superintendent of education, governor, United States senator and other officials."

"These officials will assess and collect our taxes; supervise and control our public school system; fix the amount and distribution of our tax burden; determine whether or not the educational opportunities of our boys and girls shall be extended or restricted; adjust the rates to be paid by the people for electric power, water, gas and public transportation; determine and control our policies as to maintaining and extending our public road system. Upon these officers will also depend the administration and enforcement of our laws.

"The happiness and prosperity of the people can be greatly influenced by these officials, whose duties touch the welfare and comfort of every citizen. The conclusion must be unescapable to every thoughtful citizen, that the kind of government afforded Alabama in the next four years will depend upon the character and beliefs of those who are nominated in the democratic primary.

"Alabama is now and will remain a democratic state."

Film Actor Accused Of Beating Dancer

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—(AP)—With a badly swollen eye as evidence, Vivian Duncan, of the Duncan sisters' dancing team, today hailed Rex Lease, film actor, into a sunrise court at Malibu, beach resort near here, on charges of battery.

The dancer said Lease beat and kicked her after she had refused his advances following a party at the home of Charles Farrell, another actor. Lease was released on $500 bail pending a hearing next Thursday.

Everything went smoothly at the party, Miss Duncan related, and Lease offered to escort her home. A half-hour later the dancer and a night watchman appeared before the court. Miss Duncan's eye was assuming abnormal proportions. She declared that when she rejected the actor's advances he swung at her face, knocked her down and kicked her.

Lease refused to discuss the charge.

SHOT INTO RADIO KILLS LISTENER

CHICAGO, July 7.—(AP)—John Ubowski, 17, listening to the radio, decided the announcer ought to be shot.

"I'll shoot him," he said to Stanley Tirsztus, 17, and he drew a .22-caliber pistol from his pocket, aimed at the loud speaker and pulled the trigger.

The bullet struck Stanley and killed him.

FLORIDA STATE SOLON SHOT IN GUN BATTLE

Dispute Arising Over Timber Rights Climaxed by Shooting.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 7.—(AP)—State Senator W. J. Singletary, of Marianna, Fla., and E. B. Sauls, sawmill operator, were wounded, the senator seriously, in a gun fight between the senator and his son, C. W. Singletary, and Sauls and his brother, Q. D. Sauls, at a sawmill near Newport, Fla., today.

Singletary was brought to a hospital here, where it was found that both his eyes had been shot out and his back pierced with gun shot.

According to league reports received here, the quarrel arose over the senator's cancellation of timber rights granted to the brothers on Singletary's land near Newport. He said that he went to the Sauls' mill this morning to warn the brothers not to cut any more timber. He claimed that he was threatened by guns and forced to leave the property. He returned later with his father and a gun, he said. The two brothers opened fire before he and his father could get out of their car, he said. One brother used a pistol and the other used a shotgun, he said.

Singletary was wounded first, the son said, and E. B. Sauls fell under young Singletary's return fire. The son said that he brought his father to this city without waiting to see how badly injured the Sauls were, and without notifying authorities.

Sheriff Angus Morrison, of Wakulla county, went to Newport to investigate. Young Singletary had not been arrested here.

August Heckscher Weds Mrs. Curtiss at Simple Ceremony.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—August Heckscher, 81-year-old multi-millionaire philanthropist, was on the Adirondacks today after a quiet wedding last Wednesday.

The bride was Mrs. Virginia Henry Curtiss, 56, widow of Edwin Burr Curtiss, late head of the A. G. Spaulding Sporting Goods Company. She was a close friend of Heckscher's first wife, who died in 1924, and for long had been interested in many of the same philanthropies as the banker and really man.

They obtained a license last Wednesday at Peekskill, N. Y., and were married the same day at the Methodist Episcopal church at Croton-on-Hudson. They left at once to motor through the Adirondacks.

October 8-9, at the Atlanta Biltmore, the Atlanta Club will be host to the Associated Traffic Clubs in their ninth annual national convention.

Rockefeller, 91, Healthy, Exudes Good Will to All

NEW YORK, July 7.—(UN)—John D. Rockefeller, 91, on the eve of his ninety-first birthday anniversary, is "in the best of health, surrounded by dear friends," and has "naught but good will toward all," he said in a formal statement issued to the press late today.

Mr. Rockefeller will celebrate his birthday anniversary quietly at his estate at Pocantico Hills tomorrow. There will be no special program, no deviation from routine life the millionaire leads at his home.

Following breakfast he will work for about an hour. Then he probably will play nine holes of golf with a few of his neighbors as companions. After luncheon he will take a brief rest and then go for his usual motor drive through the Westchester hills.

"It gives me great pleasure," his statement said, "to say that I have had more kindness shown me during the past year from every part of the country than ever before in my life and it is needless to state that I am unexpressably grateful."

Veterans Must File Request for Pension

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—World War veterans entitled to benefits of the new pension bill which went into effect last week must file application if they want the disability allowance.

This was announced today by Captain Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' national legislative committee, following a conference with Director Hines of the veterans' bureau.

The bureau, he said, has prepared a form for these applications which when filled out may be sent directly to the veterans' bureau or forwarded through the veterans' organization. Bettelheim said an impression was current that veterans who previously had applied for compensation and had been turned down might consider the earlier applications sufficient. This is not the case, he said, and compensation granted will date from the day of application.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE HALTS TEMPORARILY

Program Waits Outcome of Legislative Assembly.

BOMBAY, India, July 7.—(AP)—The forces of civil disobedience today were held in abeyance throughout India while the last session of the Indian legislative assembly was held at Simla and a statement was awaited from Viceroy Lord Irwin on the Simon commission report and the impending round table conference.

Hindu leaders expressed no optimism concerning the nature of the forthcoming statement. The London Daily Herald correspondent quoted moderates as saying they feared the statement merely would reiterate a policy of repression and pursuit of conciliation.

An atmosphere of political mistrust pervaded the assembly, the correspondent reported, adding that the general increase of repressive measures had increased hostility toward great Britain and that the British position in India today was not reassuring.

Only a minor disturbance interrupted the tranquility of Bombay, when six persons were arrested with the driver of a truck, for aiding violation of the anti-picketing ordinance. They had transported a group of picketers into the fort area to a position in front of one of the largest European department stores. The police seized the motor lorry in which the picketers had been carried. A Parsee magistrate freed all of the prisoners on the ground that they had violated no law.

At Poona, where disorders had been expected to attend the congregation of 8,000 civil resistance volunteers, conditions proved peaceful, although the police, in order to disperse paraders, had to arrest 25 demonstrators. Officers of the provincial congress committee at Calcutta were raided today and 50 arrests were made.

The official inquiry into recent disorders at Peshawar ended today. The committee has drawn up a report exonerating all British officers and troops concerned in the bloody fighting in the northwest frontier province, commending them for their coolness and courage in circumstances of great difficulty.

WhiteHouseFeels Charm of Nation's First Lady Again

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Hoover presided again today over the social and domestic affairs of the White House.

After more than a month's absence from the executive mansion and three months of virtual seclusion as a result of an injured back suffered in a fall, she returned late yesterday with the president from their Rapidan river lodge.

Her coming was unexpected. Although Captain Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, had said last week that she had sufficiently recovered, it had been assumed that she would remain in the coolness of the mountains most of this month.

Well and strong again, however, and able once more to take up the chain of activity which she enjoys, Mrs. Hoover decided herself to return.

As she stepped from the car onto the front porch of the White House she smiled warmly and stood momentarily chatting with Senator and Mrs. McNary, who also had driven back in the president's car. Then walked through the doors apparently untired and happy despite the long drive from the mountain lodge.

Army Orders Transfer Five General Officers

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—Orders assigning five general officers of the army to new posts were issued today by the war department.

Major General Preston Brown, of Lexington, Ky., deputy chief of staff, was assigned to command of the Panama Canal department. He will sail late in October.

Major General Malin Craig, of St. Joseph, Mo., was assigned to command the eighth corps area with headquarters Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Major General John L. Hines, of White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, was relieved from command of the ninth corps area with headquarters at San Francisco and ordered to the command of the Philippine department.

He will be replaced by Major General Douglas MacArthur, now commander in the Philippines. General MacArthur's home is at Little Rock, Ark.

Major General William Lassiter, of Petersburg, Va., was relieved of command of the eighth corps area and assigned to command of the Hawaiian department, sailing for Honolulu from New York September 27.

Captain Earl J. Brown, of Carrollton, Ga., staff engineer officer of the eighth corps area, was assigned by the war department today as district engineer of the Philadelphia district.

Sacred College Dean Is Dangerously Ill

VATICAN CITY, July 7.—(AP)—Cardinal Vannutelli, dean of the Sacred college, today was reported in a serious condition with an attack of uricemia.

Cardinal Vannutelli, who is 83 years old, was reported ill on June 6. At that time it was said his condition was not serious but that he had been ordered to take a complete rest.

The cardinal was said to have overtaxed his strength at Ascension Day ceremonies on May 29.

SEVEN BOOKS TO COME FROM BYRD EXPEDITION

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Seven books are to come out of the Byrd antarctic expedition.

George Palmer Putnam, publisher, said at a luncheon today for Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd that in addition to "the main story" to be written by Byrd, three other members of the party are to write separate accounts.

The scientific record of the expedition will be written by Dr. Lawrence Gould in four volumes. Russell Owen will be the author of a book on life in the polar camp, and Paul Siple, the Boy Scout of the party, will write a book for boys.

Admiral Byrd said his book probably would be ready for publication in November, and Gould's scientific books in the spring of 1937.

Georgian Engenders Cuban Lottery Probe

HAVANA, July 7.—(AP)—Diario de la Marina, Spanish language newspaper, reports that its investigation have uncovered a huge lottery ticket swindle in which thousands of Americans are alleged to have been duped.

The newspaper says that C. R. Brady, of the Isle of Hope, Savannah, Ga., asked an inquiry into the selling of tickets for "the Cuban international lottery"—an organization advertised as a branch of the national lottery here. The expose followed.

The Cuban government will launch an immediate investigation to locate the source of the spurious tickets, the newspaper adds.

Now! 23,720 Beauty Experts ...the world over recommend Palmolive

—a professional endorsement the like of which has never been known in the entire history of beauty culture

NEVER, in all the history of beauty culture, has there been such universal approval of any product as is given to Palmolive Soap today. When trained, skillful professionals unite in recommending one particular soap, that recommendation is significant. And there are 23,720 such specialists, in 16 different countries, who consider Palmolive Soap the ideal means of keeping skin clear, lovely, wholesome!

The need of soap and water

Experts, in studying the skin, find that the pores secrete oil, dust, dirt and powder. These accumulations gather into hard little masses. Unless these masses are removed thoroughly and regularly, the pores become clogged, blackheads appear . . . and along come all those blemishes one wishes so to avoid.

Now, the one best way to remove impurities from the pores, is the bland, safe lather of Palmolive Soap. It gets down beneath the surface. It routs out dirt and dust without irritation, leaving the skin refreshed and glowing with natural color.

The specialist studies skin care, experiments with methods and products until the one best way is found. And 23,720 such specialists advise Palmolive.

Here is the 2-minute treatment

To get the best results, use your Palmolive Soap this way: make a rich lather. Work this up with both hands, then massage it gently into the skin of face and throat. Allow it to penetrate the pores. Then rinse it off, first with warm water, gradually with colder and colder. That's all there is to it! Use ice as an astringent occasionally if you have an oily skin. You'll love the refreshing, delicate afterglow that Palmolive leaves.

And, of course, you'll use it for the bath. It costs so little that ordinary soaps are extravagant in comparison. Millions let it do for the entire body what it does so well for the face. Why don't you begin this very day?

10 Per Cent Increase Seen In Georgia's Tobacco Crop

50 Warehouses Are Preparing To Handle About $16,000,000 Worth of Golden Leaf.

With the opening of the tobacco season three weeks distant, more than 50 Georgia warehouses are preparing for a trade which within the space of five to six weeks will place $16,000,000, more or less, dependent upon market conditions, in the pockets of Georgia farmers.

It is too early yet for definite reports on the Georgia crop to come to the state department of agriculture, but indications are that a bumper crop of the weed which inspired Sir James Barrie's "My Lady Nicotine," will feed plenty of hard cash into the pockets of south Georgia farmers.

Optimism is largely based on ideal weather conditions and a federal report which estimates that this year's crop will be 10 per cent larger than that of last year. With last year's yield valued at $16,800,000, the increase would be of $1,800,000—a sum which officials point out is half the value of the entire 1929 peach crop of the state.

It is a far cry from the day when tobacco's first introduction into England caused a bucket of water to be doused over Sir Walter Raleigh's head. The increased demand—a demand which cigarette advertisements boast is increasing daily—has made tobacco, which ten years ago was next to unheard of in Georgia, the second "cash" crop in the state, exceeded only by cotton.

The 1929 value of Georgia's cotton crop was $122,971,000, according to figures just compiled in the agricultural department. Cotton's closest competitor in value was corn, the yield of which was valued at $44,390,000. But corn was not a "money" crop. The bulk of it was converted into hog-flesh and sold "on the hoof." Its elimination as a money crop leaves tobacco, with a $16,000,000 value, in third place. Although Georgia is known far and wide for its peaches, peaches are relatively far down the list in comparison with tobacco as a money producer. The 1929 crop was valued at $3,312,000, and the most optimistic estimates of the value of this year's yield do not exceed $7,500,000.

Tobacco, agricultural experts say, has made south Georgia the most prosperous farming country in the state. It has been admitted the saving factor in an agricultural region financially shot to pieces with the cotton market.

Today, with tobacco a proven success, the state department of agriculture places it at the head of crops recommended to farmers on a diversified farming program.

Tobacco also showed head and shoulders above other Georgia farm products as a money maker. The peanut crop was valued at $13,415,000, but it is thought that not more than half of this was converted into cash.

Wheat, rye and oats were valued at $9,273,000, but practically all of this was made into flour and consumed locally, a money maker only in the sense that it saved the expenditure of money.

Hay and Potatoes.
The same applies to sweet potatoes, not more than half of the $9,424,000 crop was sold, and to hay, approximately $7,078,000 worth of which was raised, but practically all of which was used locally.

The gathering of the tobacco crop began several weeks ago. Farmers in the tobacco belt are now engaged in completing their harvest and in curing the tobacco.

In harvesting tobacco the plants are gone over in rotation. The first round the outside, lower leaves, called "sand lugs," are removed. At intervals of about a week other rounds of the field are made, the outside, lower leaves being removed each time until, at the end of about six weeks, the entire plant is gone.

On each tobacco farm is a barn in which the leaves are cured. The process is carefully supervised, and a high degree of technical skill is required. It is customary for farm hands to remain all night with the crop while the curing process is under way.

Leaves Put in Warehouse.
Only after curing is completed are the leaves taken to the warehouse. Unlike cotton, which is usually taken to a warehouse only for storage, tobacco commands an immediate sale for cash.

It is in this factor that its value lies as a "money" crop. Payment is made in drafts immediately redeemable in cash at the proper bank.

The Georgia law requires that each warehouse report to the state department of agriculture at the close of each Friday's business. The weekly report includes the number of pounds purchased and the average price paid. These reports are assembled and compiled, and at the beginning of the next week a weekly report is broadcast to warehouses, tobacco producers and others interested. At the present time the mailing list includes about 500 names.

Former Mayor Pro Tem, William B. Hartsfield was minus a hat Monday night and soon found that "evidence" pointed strongly to former Mayor Pro Tem, Steve R. Johnston, who is now superintendent of Grady hospital.

Both occupied seats on the rostrum of council's busy session at the invitation of Mayor Pro Tem, J. Allen Couch, and soon Mr. Johnston departed, leaving his hat behind. When Mr. Hartsfield began a search for his straw following adjournment, it was missing, but Mr. Johnston's was there.

The two former presiding officers of Atlanta's council got together later and exchanged headpieces.

SCREEN COMIC WINS
LOVE PIRACY SUIT

Love Given Harry Langdon
by Engraver's Wife Not Stolen.

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—(P)—Harry Langdon, screen comedian, owes no love debt to Thomas J. O'Brien, an engraver, whose divorced wife he married, the superior court decided today.

A judgment in favor of Langdon was returned in O'Brien's suit to collect on three promissory notes totaling $11,500 which the actor admitted giving O'Brien to forestall a quarter of a million dollar alienation of affection suit in 1929.

The comedian's contention that he had not stolen the love of Mrs. Helen Langdon was supported by the court. Langdon married the former Mrs. O'Brien in 1929, following her divorce from the engraver in 1928.

The court also agreed with Mrs. Langdon's claim that O'Brien had killed her love for him before she met Langdon in 1923.

Langdon was justified in seeking a compromise of the alienation suit because of his position in motion pictures, the court held. The actor said publicly attending such a suit would have ruined his film career.

In addition to the $11,500 in notes, Langdon gave O'Brien $15,000 in cash.

The court said the statute of limitations prevented Langdon from recovering the $15,000 but indicated except for this, a judgment would have been returned against O'Brien in the actor's counter suit.

Montana Woman Lost
19 Pounds of Fat In 4 Weeks

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

"When stout women can lose fat and at the same time gain in energy and vigor.

Gain in charm and vivaciousness. Gain a healthy complexion and have eyes that sparkle with buoyant health.

And at insignificant cost—isn't it time to use common sense?

Please read this letter carefully:

"Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

"I was the first to purchase a bottle in Billings.

"I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

"I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 250 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 230 lbs. And must say I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

"I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends. In fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

"May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Jacobs' Pharmacy or any drug store in America.—(adv.)

LUCRATIVE RACKET
IN ARSON SMASHED

Arrest of Ten in Buffalo Finishes Ring, Is Police Claim.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 7.—(P)—A "stool pigeon," a motion picture camera, a detective with infinite patience and a firm belief in modern methods of police work, have smashed a racket which has operated throughout western New York for several years, its profits amounting to $1,000,000 a year.

Ten persons, including two women, were in the custody of police after a series of raids in Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Those under arrest are Harry Bennett, 43, of Buffalo, alleged "touch off" man for the racket; Charles Waldow, 37, of Buffalo; Morris Waldow, 35, president and treasurer of M. Waldow, Inc., clothing manufacturer; Emanuel Goodman, 48, and his wife, Sarah, 45; Harry Slotzky, 35, and his wife, and Meyer Korris, 40, all of Buffalo; Max Silbergeld, Niagara Falls, and Joseph Pudloff, 50, Lackawanna. More arrests were expected as police ran down clues said to have been provided by a confession made to them by Bennett.

Bennett, police said, confessed to having been paid $50 to $300 each for starting fires. His statement was said to have accounted for the origin of 16 mysterious fires in Buffalo. Six in Niagara Falls and four in Dunkirk.

Bennett was arrested Saturday by Detective Sergeant Simon J. Callinan, of the Buffalo police arson squad, who trapped him by posing as a truck driver with a stalled truck just outside Silbergeld's furniture store in which, police claim, Bennett had been hired to start a fire.

Callinan delayed the arrest, however, until he had obtained a motion picture film showing, he claimed, Silbergeld and Bennett entering the store and coming out again, Bennett examining a check; Bennett slipping into the store with a bundle; Silbergeld coming out of the store and locking Bennett inside.

Silbergeld was trailed by another police officer, while Callinan smashed in the back door of the furniture store and arrested Bennett, according to the police, in the act of starting a fire.

Nebraska Senior
Leaps From Plane

LINCOLN, Neb., July 7.—(P)—Miss Alberta Brinkerhoff, University of Nebraska senior, today fell or jumped to her death from an airplane near here. Coroner C. A. Hughart said she committed suicide.

After riding to the airport in a taxi, the young woman entered the plane of Pete Orr, a pilot for the Lincoln Flying school. While flying near the airport, Orr said he saw Miss Brinkerhoff climb on the wing of the ship. He manipulated the controls and was able to throw her back into the cockpit of the plane.

Orr immediately prepared to land the ship and when he reached an altitude of approximately 1,200 feet, he said the young woman jumped. Her body was found on the flying field.

Vesuvius Erupts
And Loses Height

NAPLES, Italy, July 7.—(P)—Mount Vesuvius today burst into a state of active eruption, developing three fountains of burning lava that invaded the whole northwest section of the vast platform of its crater. The eruptive cone fell 95 feet down into the crater.

Alessandro Malladra, director of the Vesuvius observatory, said the eruptive activity would continue for several weeks, but the lava probably would solidify in the crater and in the Valley of the Inferno.

He thought it would not pour out over the neighboring fertile slopes.

TYDINGS WRITES BOOK
AGAINST PROHIBITION

Maryland Senator Compiles Statistics on Effects of Dry Law.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(UN)—Basing his conclusions on a digest of statistics obtained from various governmental agencies, Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, has compiled a volume designed to offer proof that prohibition, after 10 years, has not shown the salutary results which were predicted by its advocates at the time of adoption of the eighteenth amendment. The book, titled "Before and After Prohibition," will be published here tomorrow by the Macmillan Company.

Senator Tydings has based his tract on figures obtained from the treasury department, the department of justice, the department of agriculture, the census bureau, the prohibition bureau, reports of federal grand juries and United States district attorneys, state commissioners of motor vehicles, federal highway bureau, police departments of many cities and insurance companies.

He sets out to show that the arguments and claims advanced by proponents of prohibition have not been realized. These claims, as set forth in the book, include: That prohibition would end drunkenness, eliminate deaths from alcoholism, decrease crime, empty jails and prisons, abolish the saloon, decrease the number of insane, offer a better example to the young, make roads safer for travel, make bank deposits grow at a faster rate, decrease taxes and that it would direct the money then being spent for liquor to the purchase of more socially useful things.

No one of these aims has been accomplished to any appreciable extent, Senator Tydings claims, while in most instances, the effect has been deleterious rather than salutary.

He quotes police department statistics to show that arrests for drunkenness are increasing steadily in 355 large American cities; he cites police statistics in Washington to show that juvenile drunkenness has shown "shocking" increases since the advent of prohibition and he quotes motor officials to show that revocation of driving licenses because of drunkenness is on a steady increase.

The same method is employed in treating of steady increases in the number of deaths from alcoholism, the enormous cost of prohibition to the nation together with the approximate amount of money the public spends annually for intoxicants, the increase in prison population, the increase in crime, and the number of deaths attributed to federal agents' firing on bootleggers.

Senator Tydings, in a summation at the close of his book, advocates return of the liquor problem to the various states.

France Suspends
Saar Negotiations

PARIS, July 7.—(UN)—The French foreign office announced today that the Saar negotiations were temporarily suspended.

The communique said "serious divergence of views" between the German and French delegations caused the action. The conversations were suspended until October 1.

It was intimated the chief difficulty centered around the purchase price of the Saar mines, and also the French demand for joint control.

Royalty Group Formed

MADRID, July 7.—(P)—One hundred twenty-two thousand young people of Spain have gathered in an organization called "Legionaries of Spain," whose aim will be to take intense part in Spanish politics in a propaganda campaign in behalf of retaining monarchical traditions of the country.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN,
Associated Press Market Editor.
CHICAGO, July 7.—(AP)—Thousands of carloads of wheat arriving from the harvest fields and piled up in the elevators, and the fact that the available supply sent wheat prices down today in the southwest wheat market. Receipts of wheat at ten points in excess of 5,000 cars in eight days, the domestic stock increase totaled a 3,478,000-bushel increase, and the export market was taken by the week. Wheat prices reached three-day lows, and also a new low. The wheat market closed nervous at but little over the day's bottom figure, but a few cents higher than Thursday's finish. Corn closed 7-8 to 1-5-8, and wheat 7-8 to 1-5-8, and provisions ranging from 20c off to a rise of 15c.

Adding to the backbreaking load under which the harvest crop collapsed were reports of fast progress northward, especially in Illinois and Nebraska. In an acre telling of yields, the crop was an acre more than was expected a few weeks ago. A heavy white, with more receipts of domestic wheat poured in from the cities southwest that heretofore have borne the brunt of Canada and generally rain reports. Conditions described as prevailing in spring wheat territory as further incentives to deprive the market of aggressive support from buyers. Numerous discouraging delivery contracts let go on the down-swing of the market, including a few of the best looking contracts shown themselves tenuous, however, for price rallies. New buying power, from start to finish, seldom equaled a few cents, and for at least the time being were mostly from previous sales in a position to be chiefly dragged down by the effect of wheat news. Corn, however, reports to reports that the corn crop in the territory is unsatisfactory, with the crop being late with growth normal and the stand lower, influenced by the action of grain.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Relatively easy Liverpool cables, a bearish view of private crop and acreage reports, and weakness in other markets were reflected by declines in cotton here today.

Offerings were comparatively moderate but there was not much buying in evidence and prices sold off to 13.41 for July and 13.75 for the new October contract in the late trading.

July closed at 13.18 or 6 points up from the lowest on covering but there was very little rally in the later months with the new October closing at 12.79. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 17 to 31 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 7 points in response to the cables, and the market worked gradually lower during the day under scattered selling, which was attributed partly to liquidation promoted by private crop reports. Three of these private reports were published early, one of them placing the reduction in acreage at 2.3 per cent, the second made it 2.0 per cent and the third estimated the probable decrease as compared with last year at only 1.1 per cent.

The latter put the end-of-year condition of the crop at 73.6 per cent with a report of 74.1 at the same time last year, and said this year's condition was probably slightly above the average for the beginning of July.

Weakness in wheat and the stock market also came in for comment and probable contributors to the decline, which extended to 13.05 for old October and 12.94 for the new December contract in the late trading, when active months showed net losses of 17 to 37 points. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the lowest on new crop positions.

Up to the close of business this afternoon, it was said that 11 private acreage estimates had been issued with figures on the decrease ranging from 1 per cent up to 4.3 per cent and averaging 3.1 per cent. These reports came after the cotton market had been down for three days, the first crop report came from the condition of the crop ranging from 60.9 up to 73.6 per cent and averaging 71.6 per cent.

Part of the selling here was supposed to represent liquidation of old October contracts, but the private reports count comparatively large acreage figures from the government tomorrow and a belief that the crop has been banded continued fair progress, although rain is supposed to be needed in some sections.

Liverpool reported a quiet market there and said business in cotton cables and yarns was small with producers losing ground. Exports today 225, making 6,690,769 so far this season. Port receipts 3,884. United States port stock 1,634,998.

SPOTS TUMBLE

AT NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—(AP)—With the government acreage report due tomorrow the cotton market reopened after the independence holidays with very little disposition to trade apart.

Liverpool came in better than due and first transactions showed gains of 1 to 4 points, but as New York started lower prices here promptly reacted and were soon 7 to 12 points below the opening figures of July.

The market continued to weaken in the late trading and made new lows 23 to 27 points under the early highs and closed at or near the bottom. The general market showed net losses for the day of 21 to 23 points.

Liverpool was reported to be 2 to 2 better than due. By the end of the first hour July here traded down to 12.87, October to 12.94 and December to 12.12 or 12 points below the opening.

The market continued on the down grade most of the session, the decline being helped by easier stocks. July dropped to 12.80, October to 12.94 and December to 12.08 or 17 to 24 points below the opening prices. The market continued to decline after mid-session sympathy with stocks and wheat which induced further liquidation. July dropped to 12.70, October 12.80 and December 12.96 or 23 to 27 points under the highs. The close was at or near the lowest and 21 to 23 net down.

Port receipts 2,095; for week 3,834; for season 6,522,185; last season 9,457,277. Exports 2,255; for week 1,417; for season 6,522,162; last season 7,766,144. Port stock, 1,541,423; last year 706,981; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 60,440; last year 39,654. Spot sales at southern markets 1,569; last year 2,414.

June Business Returns Prove Disappointment

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Stocks opened lower today, with the initial selling had been exhausted, however, the trading turned dull, with the result that sales for the day totaled less than 1,500,000 shares. Turnover in the first half hour was larger than the sales in the last 50 minutes. The latter period, is normally the most active.

While such stocks as United States Steel, American Can, American Telephone and General Electric were meeting pressure, a varied group was being put down to new lows for the session. Included in this list were Simmons Safes, Stores, Du Pont, Gillette Safety Razor, Atlantic Coast Line, National Cash Register, North American, Air Reduction, American Locomotive, Columbia Graphophone and St. Louis and San Francisco, with losses ranging between 2 and 7 points.

National Bellas Hess also made a new minimum on a smaller loss. Selling in North American was vigorous and the stock was off more than 6 points at its lowest. A statement by the company's president said that electric utility of the subsidiaries in the 12 months ended June 30 had gained 6.4 per cent over the year ended June 30, 1929.

United States Steel got down to 153.4, or within 2 points of the year's low, and closed at 154.1, or 2 points below last Thursday's final quotation. International Harvester, American Telephone, General Electric, Columbia Gas Consolidated, American Can, Eastman Kodak, New York Central, Westinghouse Electric and Vanadium Steel lost 1 to 4 points.

Ingersoll Rand suffered a maximum drop of more than 2 points, recovering 2 points of the extreme loss. Allied Chemical and Air Reduction were off 6 and 7 points.

Call money firmed. Renewing at 2 per cent, the rate was advanced successively to 2 1/2 and 3 as the banks called nearly $50,000,000 in loans. A livelier demand for funds was also reported. The call money was attributed mostly to the 2 per cent figure which ruled over the week-end, a rate that apparently did not appeal to the large volume of business.

Foreign exchanges were firm to strong. Sterling cables rose 5-32.

Disappointing returns on June business, reported by several large concerns, coupled with the fact that the weakness of the basic staples to affect speculative sentiment in the share market. A substantial volume of selling was reported, and the market closed at a loss.

Trend to Rail Consolidation Halted During Past Congress

BY CLINTON COFFIN.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Advances toward national consolidation of railroads have been brought to a complete halt by the temporary halt by events and developments associated with the congressional session just closed.

A single proposal came to a final vote in one house and other projects of a nature tending to cast doubt on the future of the national merger program were left hanging.

Ten years ago congress by great majorities ordered the interstate commerce commission to prepare means for throwing all of the country's rail systems into 18 or 20 giant units, and empowered it to set aside anti-trust statutes for the purpose.

One house of the congress just adjourned voted by an unexpected majority to withdraw the power the commission holds to override the anti-trust laws; the other house of the same congress, hesitating to go that far, was torn by a demand for action nullifying the only extensive rail merger the commission had approved.

Adjournment buried doubts and differences for the time being, though it left a congressional committee busily delving into the morass of methods of railroad finance which came under hot fire during the controversy.

Applications Withdrawn.
Meanwhile, aside from congress, the four chief railroad interests which had asked the congress to sanction specific plans for merger actions withdrew their applications to await developments.

The new agitation over railroad consolidation was incited primarily by an extraordinary report to congress from the commerce commission last fall, asking investigation of railroad financing.

Joseph B. Eastman, chairman of the commission's legislative committee, following up the report, explained to a house committee that there was "danger of complete loss of public control of the process of railroad unification" from the remarkable use being made of the holding company device. He said also the "pyramiding" of ownerships going on ought to be at least thoroughly understood by the law-making bodies.

Principally, here was cited the remarkable accomplishments of the Van Sweringen brothers, of Cleveland, who have linked together a string of railroads—north, south, east and west—of greater proportions and extent than any of the Hill, Harriman, or Gould empires of transportation.

Much Developed.
As the congressional inquiry disclosed, the holding company device has been astoundingly developed in the process, one corporation after another being superimposed upon predecessors, and vast quantities of securities being emitted and marketed with the investing public at each stage.

Thus, to give a single example, 92 per cent of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad voting stock became the chief asset of a new company, the Chesapeake corporation, was made subject to a collateral bond issue of $45,000,000, while 70 per cent of the voting stock of the Chesapeake corporation became property of the Allegheny corporation.

In turn, the Allegheny corporation, after selling 46.2 per cent of its own stock to the public, and bonding its assets under another collateral mortgage issue, appears to have passed 90,000 shares of its own common stock to the Van Sweringen corporation, the third link in the holding chain.

Commissioner Eastman indicated that the chief purpose of the procedure was to enable voting control of immense holdings of rail property to be retained by investment at the of a relatively small sum of capital, and the various legislative resolutions emitted from the study of the performance had a common character in suggesting that holding corporation dealings with rail securities be brought under commission supervision.

Gain Favors.
The Pennsylvania company, through the Pennroad corporation, also appeared from the inquiry to have gone strongly into holding corporation play. However, the two remaining of the great eastern trunk lines, the Baltimore and Ohio and the New York Central, remained clear.

and incidentally got during the winter specific grants of official favor.

The Baltimore and Ohio has been permitted to make outright purchase of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, and the Buffalo and Susquehanna, facilitating the ambition of its veteran president, Daniel Willard, to create a new Chicago-New York short line in northern territory. The New York Central got authority to consolidate its own subsidiaries, the Big Four and Michigan Central, and to buy up a whole group of short lines along its routes.

In the west, the congressional revolt over rail consolidation was fanned into flame principally by the commission's conditional sanction of the union of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern systems. That project, 25 years ago, was banned by a federal court order, because anti-trust law opposes the union of "parallel and competing lines of railroad."

The protest from the northwest against its renewal was unabated when congress closed, and it was repeated in financial circles that the management of the two systems would withdraw from the attempt to consummate it.

"MOST CAPTIVATING CHARM?"

Famous Screen Stars say, "Lovely Skin"

There is a fascination to exquisite skin which captures the imagination. Over and over Hollywood has proved this in the close-up. So great is its power that 45 leading directors say, "No girl ever rises to stardom on the screen unless her skin has the breath-taking softness of a baby's."

Dorothy Jordan M. G. M., like 9 out of 10 other screen stars, keeps her petal-smooth skin always at its loveliest by using Lux Toilet Soap. She says, "I am devoted to this delicately fragrant white soap."

Vivacious Sally Eilers says: "Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin the same velvety smoothness that the finest French soaps did. It's a joy."

And delightful Ann Greenway, Radio Pictures' Player, with charming enthusiasm, says: "I always use Lux Toilet Soap."

In all the great film studios, this has long been the official soap. Are you, too, using Lux Toilet Soap? Try some—today. First sweeping Hollywood, then Broadway, and now the European capitals—10%—(adv.)

New Paramount, With New Type Program, Scores Hit

When Public first announced they were spending $100,000 in alterations and improvements at the Paramount theater, private opinion was that it was largely unnecessary. Didn't seem any place in the lovely Paramount to spend such a sum reasonably.

However, after viewing the completed job Monday afternoon, we take back those private thoughts. They have spent the money and wisely and well. It is, true, still the same Paramount, with all those features that have made it, ever since its erection more than 10 years ago, one of the most beautiful theaters in the world. But it must be admitted that the alterations have improved it. And, as added good news, let it be mentioned here and now that the change of program policy seemed, Monday, to be a huge success. More of that anon, however.

The new color scheme of the theater makes it lighter in effect. Brighter is, perhaps, the better word. At the rear of the orchestra floor there is a vast improvement whereby the promenade extends the full width of the house in a wide, graceful curve. And the decorations and color scheme throughout are very pleasing. Filling in that oval opening in the downstairs rear ceiling, also, has provided a magnificent lounge upstairs. Gorgeous

Stark, of Atlanta, was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, July 7, at 5 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Rev. Ernest Risley performed the impressive double ring ceremony. The bride was recently graduated from Girls' High school. Mr. Stark is a graduate of Emory University, receiving the M. S. degree. He is a chemist in the United States department of agriculture at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark left immediately for Signal Mountain, Tenn., and will make their home in Cincinnati.

place to loaf there hot days, boys and girls.

As for the additions to the program: Lou Forbes, the conductor of the new Paramount grand orchestra, impresses as a first class musician with a pleasing personality. The exigencies of the stage show, this week, force him to do a little "master of ceremonying," but he is careful not to overdo it and fills the spot altogether satisfactorily. He is a musicianly conductor and as a violin soloist equals the best heard in local theaters in many moons.

He is worthy of special commendation for his perfect orchestral cueing for the news reel and other screen attractions.

On the stage, first mention must be made of the 12 "Paramount Rockets." Report is that these are 12 local girls, selected to form the backbone of the stage acts for a number of weeks, at least. They must be local. For no road organization ever had 12 as good looking femmes at one time in the entire history of road shows. And don't overlook the fact that they can dance.

Principals in the show are led by Stella Powers, a coloratura, who has an astounding range for her voice, marked only by a slight tendency to float on a few notes. Slight enough, perhaps, that the majority of audience ears won't detect it.

NEIGHBORHOOD THEATERS.

BURKEHEAD—"The Vagabond King," DEKALB—"Sarah and Son," EMPIRE—"The Vagabond King," LAKWOOD—"Seven Keys to Baldpate," MADISON—"Devil May Care," PALACE—"Sally," PONCE DE LEON—"This Is Tenth Street," "Dangerous Paradise," WEST END—"Sarah and Son."

same might happen to most any swain who, after taking the girl friend in the evening, escorts her home and finds her angel waiting up—with murder in the well-known eye. The girl friend, played by Natalie Moorhead, after a quarrel in which she accuses everybody else in the apartment, flees to the boy friend's room on the floor below. Her enraged lover pursues her and a shapely one-round bottom follows, the erstwhile lover being knocked out a window several stories above the ground.

The girl friend can't bear scandal and the only evidence she has, played by Powell, has to offer vanishes. He goes to the big house and escapes, turning up as an executive in a Carolina mill and very much in love with the owner's daughter. The first girl friend offers to make the affidavit necessary for a pardon for $50,000. Thereafter the picture speeds to the "happy live happily afterward" climax.

On the stage, there is a Stuart and Lash novelty which is very good and Paxton, the mental marvel, is a prodigious memorizer of numbers. In the news picture is a sound film of Bobby Jones' nubbick waxing eloquent at Hoyalake.

—R. E. POWELL.

At the Capitol.

"CAZAR OF BROADWAY," with John Wray, Betty Compson, etc. News reel and short subjects. On the stage, program of Loew Keith's Georgia. Feature starts at 1:10, 4:01, 7:30 and 10:08. Stage show starts at 2:37, 5:38 and 8:39.

The biggest applause of Monday afternoon, at Loew's Capitol, was accorded Billy Wells and the Four Fays, a vaudeville act chiefly composed of dancing and spiced with a peppery brand of comedy. Few vaudeville acts that moved faster than this have been seen in Atlanta. Wells is totally different in type from any other performer and the three slender girls who work so hard in their dance numbers add lots of punch to the offering. Best moment of the act is probably the prize fight dance between one of the girls and the masculine Fay.

Second honors, again according to the Monday afternoon audience, were about evenly divided between Charles Kemper and Jeannie, in a nonsense act with five or six people and Russell and Marconi, musical comedians. Among the Kemper act several people within hearing thought the laws against children working ought to apply to Jeannie. Not this observer, however.

The stage show is completed by a flexible and athletic maid billed as Helen Carlson who sports on trapeze and rope.

The screen feature is "Czar of Broadway," a story of New York and its big-money gamblers and its gunmen. Betty Compson is alluring in the principal female role while John Wray is clever in a role evidently built upon the late Arnold Rothstein. As a newspaperman, however, it is hard not to feel a touch of resentment at some of the utterly unnatural things the director makes his reporter juvenile do. A part played, by the way, by John Harmon as well as could be for such a part.

One of the highest spots of the screen bill is a two-reel comedy with our old friends, Laurel and Stanley. They, at least, never disappoint.

—RALPH T. JONES.

Additional Nurses For Battle Hill Asked

The finance committee of council Monday was asked to provide funds for employment of half a dozen additional nurses for Battle Hill sanitarium.

The paper was presented by Alderman G. E. Miller, of the tenth ward, and was referred at his request to the finance committee for study.

Mr. Miller warned council that no more than 10 patients can be received at the institution until additional nurse service is available.

'Not Damaged' Fox Feature, Is Unusual

"Not Damaged," the Fox Movie production featuring Lois Moran, Walter Byron and Robert Ames, the picture attraction at the Fox this week, is a story that keeps audiences well interested by its splendid direction, but when it reaches its last two reels it begins to take a different twist and ends with a truly O. Henry touch of the unusual.

Fanchon and Marco's stage production is more nearly like a vaudeville program than any of recent weeks. It is called "Ivory," and has quite a bit of comedy, a sprinkling of singing and lots of music and dancing. One of the real features is 11 pianists going at one time, headed by Meyer, and with the ten Sunkist Beauties playing with him on miniature but perfectly tuned pianos.

Ecco Leide and the Fox Grand orchestra is playing for the overture this week "The Student Prince," a miniature musical comedy, featuring "The Secret of St. Meyer," and "The Drinking Song," Mel Brown on the organ is playing; a particularly appealing program.

'Paramount Parade' Pleases at Cameo

A sensation! That's "Paramount on Parade," the feature attraction at the Cameo the first half of this week. Every important player in the Paramount company is in the picture, and everyone does something delightfully entertaining. There is none of the business of dragging in names just to swell the cast.

A spirit of the most charming intimacy pervades the picture. The performers meet the audience more than half way and lead it into the joyful frolic of fun and gaiety. It's like nothing so much as a great big jovial Hollywood party with the greatest entertainers in the world on hand to provide the amusement and act as ever-thoughtful hosts.

There isn't space here to mention the fun in detail. It must be seen to be appreciated. Buddy Rogers, for instance, and Lillian Roth, and George Bancroft and Clara Bow and Nancy Carroll, they're all in it. The song hits are marvelous. The dancing is superb, and there's not too much of it. It's a grand show all around.

Stockade Cost Time Reduced by Council

Council and the aldermanic board Monday afternoon approved an ordinance by Councilman H. Turner Loehr, of the first ward, reducing the extra time persons sentenced to the stockade must serve to pay off the additional costs, which council approved last year.

Costs were raised from $1 to $2 each, and under the law, prisoners are required to serve an additional four days to pay the costs instead of two, which were required before the resolution was passed.

The Loehr resolution will cut the extra time back to two days.

Stewart Ave. Carline Extension Requested

Captain Hawks Seeks New Air Speed Record

WICHITA, Kan., July 7.—(P)—Transcontinental speed records still hold an irresistible lure for Captain Hawk Hawks, of Houston, Texas.

His new monoplane unofficially timed at 240 miles an hour in initial speed tests here yesterday, Captain Hawks announced he would leave Friday for New York to attempt another east-west flight to Los Angeles. He holds the east-west record of 19 hours 10 minutes and 28 seconds, a mark he set June 7, 1929.

City Hall Wrecking Penalty Nears $2,000

With penalties for failure to complete wrecking of the old Atlanta city hall within the stipulated time limit nearing the $2,000 mark, the amount of the bond guarantee, members of council Monday afternoon quizzed Councilman George Lyle, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, regarding completion of the work.

Mr. Lyle referred all questions to City Attorney James I. Mayson, declaring that the contract will be completed under a new contractor recently named as soon as possible.

Council Will Attend Griffin Celebration

Atlanta council Monday accepted the invitation of Griffin to attend celebration of the 50th anniversary of that city on July 10, and voted to permit the local police band to attend.

Playground Pageant Plans Are Perfected

Plans for the great playground pageant to be held July 16 were perfected Monday at a meeting of directors at the city hall.

Each of the 20 playgrounds has selected its respective candidate for queen, and every person in Atlanta is entitled to cast a ballot for his choice between now and August 1, according to Mrs. Chester Johnson, supervisor of playgrounds.

The constitution will carry ballots on which a person may vote once. Under rules of the contest, a person may cast but one ballot but the balloting is free to anyone who wishes to participate. Votes will be tabulated by the parks department.

JIM THE CONQUEROR

By PETER B. KYNE

FOURTEENTH INSTALLMENT.

"When the first J. M. married a red-headed Spanish woman who insisted on spelling the name as it was pronounced, my ancestor did not object. So the tribe of Higuene was born. The family migrated to Mexico in the nineteenth century, and my great-grandfather married the daughter of an Irishman who owned this rancho. That brought the Celtic strain up a little. My grandfather added to it by marrying a girl who was half Irish, and when he looked at his offspring he was glad he'd done it. He noticed the cross had increased the height, breadth, general appearance, industry, and temper of the Higuene tribe. We looked much more like Black Irish than Mexicans now, and were probably, a little more than half Celt. But we had Spanish customs and a Spanish outlook on life and Spanish was our mother tongue. Also we had no reason to be other than proud of our Spanish blood, so we never mixed it with Indian. When we moved to Texas my grandfather bought land under the Stars and Bars. He sent my father to the Virginia Military Institute and mother to the University of Virginia and father married a Carol of Virginia and begot me."

"You have never been married?" the nurse asked.

"Never."

"Aren't you going to be?"

"I fear not. The loneliness here—the coyote chorus on the buttes—all militate against it, Mrs. Ganby."

"The right girl," said Mrs. Ganby, "wouldn't mind it in the least. Go forth and search for her, Don Jaime."

Don Jaime appraised the old nurse with kindly interest. "Mrs. Ganby, you told me you were a widow. Have you any children?"

"One—a boy of 15. He has been quite crippled since his twelfth birthday. Infantile paralysis."

Don Jaime considered this. "Suppose you had a comfortable home where you could be with your boy always? I should have a house here. For some time I have felt that Flavio's wife is too—well, elemental, for the job. This hacienda should know a gentleman's management—at nurse's wages."

He nodded. "I'd like to be able to invite nice people to visit me, Mrs. Ganby. I should like to have my friends from the surrounding country come to dinner often, but I'm never satisfied with the appearance of my board, the menu, or the service. I have no time to train maids and housekeepers—and if I did I wouldn't know how."

"Yes, a man is very helpless. I should be glad to come, Don Jaime."

"You are very kind, Ken, you run up to El Paso and get the boy, Mrs. Ganby will arrange that detail with you. Now clear out and let me sleep."

Mrs. Ganby, with tears of happiness in her middle-aged eyes, followed the assistant general manager into the ranch office.

"Why do you suppose he engaged me, Mr. Hobart? Do you think he suspected he was doing a very wonderful thing for my boy and me?"

"Yes, I think so. But he engaged you, principally, I think, because he wants the Casa Higuene to be running in civilized fashion in case his luck holds and he should have the honor of entertaining Miss Roberta Antrim and her duenna."

"She'll not have a duenna."

"Oh, yes, she will. You'll supply that lack. Don Jaime is very tactful and formal."

"Why is he so interested in the niece of this vicious old man he had to kill?"

"Because Don Jaime Miguel Higuene is a romantic Mick, that's why. He saw a full-page rotogravure picture of her in the Suburban Gentleman."

"Oh, dear, he's quite hopeless! She may photograph beautifully even with red hair, freckles and green eyes, but she may also be mean and selfish and irritating; she may be without manners."

"Mrs. Ganby wrote a note to the people with whom she boarded her crippled son and gave it to Mr. Hobart together with the address. When he repaired to his quarters to array himself for the journey, Mrs. Ganby returned to her patient."

"What a charming man your Mr.

Field of About 140 Expected To Tee Off in Annual Tourney.

By Roy White.

Amateur golfers from every section of the state will try to qualify today on the East Lake course for the thirteenth annual Georgia state amateur tournament sponsored by the Georgia State Golf Association. Approximately 140 golfers are expected to take over the difficult course in an effort to be among the 128 who will compete for the crown.

John Oliver, of Valdosta, Ga., present champion, will defend his title today on the East Lake course for the thirteenth annual Georgia state amateur tournament sponsored by the Georgia State Golf Association. Approximately 140 golfers are expected to take over the difficult course in an effort to be among the 128 who will compete for the crown.

Gene Cook, of Marietta, Ga., runner-up last year, will be in the field. He is a former University of Georgia golfer and will be playing for the Georgia State Golf Association. Approximately 140 golfers are expected to take over the difficult course in an effort to be among the 128 who will compete for the crown.

The next low scores to Cook were 79 and Kayton Smith, of Savannah, runner-up last year. Elliott Haas, of Marietta, Ga., runner-up last year, will be in the field. He is a former University of Georgia golfer and will be playing for the Georgia State Golf Association. Approximately 140 golfers are expected to take over the difficult course in an effort to be among the 128 who will compete for the crown.

The qualifying rounds are scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and five open starting times remain unfilled before A. M. Swasey and E. S. Hartman start out at 8:25 o'clock. The players will start out at five-minute intervals and another open time remains between 12 and 12:55 o'clock.

Atlantaans who expect to enter are requested to arrive at the clubhouse this morning or around noon in order to get started at convenient times.

Following the qualifying rounds today, the lowest 32 players will be grouped in the championship division. The remaining 128 players will be grouped into divisions of 32 each and first-round matches will be played Wednesday.

The defeated 16 players in each division will be played in the second round on Thursday morning. Two rounds will be played Friday and the finals will be played Saturday.

Lowry Arnold, president of the Georgia State Golf Association, will be in charge of the tournament. Frank Ball, East Lake professional, will assist the committee.

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 7.—It looks as if golf is the "coming" game. Folks are beginning to pay attention to what once was considered just "a fad."

Not so long ago a man who played golf was considered a "sissy" or perhaps "kind of cracked." Now some of our most prominent boxers, baseball players and steam fitters can be seen on the links trying their hand at the new sport.

If you are not playing golf these days you "just aren't anybody" and mark my words, the time will come when golf will be classed with, if not actually ahead of, baseball as a major sport. It may seem difficult to believe now, but the trend of the times is toward "cow pasture pool" as a witty fellow whose name escapes me called it.

JUST LOOKING AROUND.

Your correspondent happened to be in Minneapolis today looking over the flour situation and discovered that the executive vice president of Atlanta Baseball Company was here with his mother and father visiting and that he had taken up golf in a serious way.

He has been playing since Sunday at a place called Interlachen where they have a pretty good golf course and has decided to enter the national open championship which begins Thursday, I think.

So I have cancelled a business trip and will stay here to see how the Atlanta baseball magnate catches on to the new game.

THE NEW AMBASSADOR.

If you do not believe golf is becoming important, Mr. Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state and former ambassador to the Court of St. James, is here today to watch Bobby Jones practice. Mr. Kellogg came around to congratulate Bobby on acceding to his old portfolio.

A COUNTY FAIR.

Carpenters and tent makers are putting the finishing touches on what appears to be a county fair. Everywhere about the expensive turf of the Interlachen Club temporary sheds, shacks, hoots and shelters have been built. Here and there tents are being raised. Bunting used to rope off areas lends a festive air to the scene. Only the band is lacking.

For the young men who will report what happens for the press of the nation a huge shed has been erected not far from the first tee. It is filled with chattering typewriter instruments, stuttering typewriters and perspiring persons persistently pounding publicity.

The sides of the shed are walled in wood to a height of four feet and the rest is screen. Yet, with all this air space it is hotter than a turpentine camp. The place no doubt will be destroyed by fire of spontaneous origin along about noon Friday and quite rightly, too.

PRAISE ALLAH!

However, it is quite worth a trip away out here so many hundreds of miles from New York and Atlanta, to find some central standard time again.

There were two sorts of time in New York and two sorts in Chicago. This resulted in appointments missed and a general atmosphere of bewilderment.

Here at least 4 o'clock is pretty close to 4 o'clock and to a mind weary of subtraction and heavy laden with addition, it is a relief to look at a watch and not have to plunge immediately into a contemplation of mathematics and astronomy.

Those who listen to radiocasts of this tournament can read certain times quoted in the papers with child-like confidence.

They do not believe in saving daylight out here in the great northwest. They have enough to last through each day and that is all they seem to want.

STIRB IS GUIDING LIGHT.

Nate Lewis, matchmaker for the Chicago stadium, has hitched his wagon to Young Stribling. I gathered that in a talk with him in Chicago recently.

It is not because Nate is fond of the Striblings and likes their accent. Nate smokes a big cigar but he is not from the south. In fact, he lives right in the Loop and not in South Chicago. A purely mercenary motive stirs Nate to proclaim allegiance to the boxer from Bainbridge, Ga.

You see Tex Rickard could never have been Tex without Jack Dempsey. The two were interdependent. One helped make the other rich and famous. Tex has gone on. His successor will be the man who promotes the next world's champion.

There is a state of war existing between Madison Square Garden and the Chicago stadium. The Garden people based their hopes of future success on Jack Sharkey's winning the title but Jack threw them down something awful.

Meanwhile, the Chicago faction kept casting around for a potential champion. They took on Johnny Risko, Otto Von Porat, Tuffy Griffith and Young Stribling. Von Porat beat Griffith, Griffith beat Risko and Stribling knocked out Von Porat. Stribling it was who made the biggest impression on Chicago fans. So Stribling it is as far as the Chicago stadium are concerned.

ROSE-COLORED GLASSES.

Stribling will fight Tuffy in Chicago in September provided he does not get a fight with Max Schmeling. This is not out of the question, not by a jugful.

In fact, he may fight Griffith and then Schmeling under auspices of the Chicago stadium.

And, when he does fight Schmeling, the Chicago stadium will have a champion and Nate Lewis will be in line for the toga Tex folded and put away. Hence the affection for Lewis for dear old Georgia.

STAR DROWNED AT MAINE LAKE IN CANOE SPILL

Al Lassman, Great N.Y.U. Tackle, Dies in Storm.

HARRISON, Maine, July 7.—(AP)—Al Lassman, former star tackle on the New York University football team, was drowned in Long Lake yesterday. The body was recovered today after several hours of grappling.

Lassman, who was 24 years old, was a guest at a boys' camp, where he had served as counselor two years ago. In midafternoon yesterday he went out on the lake in a canoe alone, which is forbidden by camp rules.

A few hours later the canoe was brought to the camp by persons who had found it uncoupled about a mile and one-half below the camp.

A large group started grappling for the body and it was brought to the surface at 2 a. m.

Lassman was an expert swimmer and a good boatman, and friends at the camp expressed the belief that he probably died of shock when he fell or was thrown into the water during the wind and rainstorm which swept the lake yesterday. An autopsy will be performed.

Lassman's friends alluded to his rescue of a girl from the ocean at Miami last winter and to his rowing on the Rindge technical high school, Cambridge, Mass., eight-oar crew in support of their contention that his death was not due to inability to swim or to handle the canoe.

THE GIANT TACKLE.

The giant tackle ran in hard luck in his football career at New York University.

In 1927 he received a fractured ankle which took him out for a part of the season, and in 1928 he was seriously injured about the head in the Carnegie Tech. That injury eliminated him from further consideration as an All-American possibility. Previous to that time he was one of the strongest contenders for the mythical team.

Lassman Reported Recovering From Hurt.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Al Lassman, giant tackle of the New York University team, was sure of All-American honors and was looking forward to a big season.

He had won the professional prize ring.

As soon as the season was over he planned to enter upon a pugilistic career in which many ring observers predicted he would become a heavyweight champion, for he had immense size, speed, power and skill.

Six feet tall and weighing 215 pounds he had won handily the intercollegiate heavyweight boxing championship and had never been defeated in amateur rings.

In the Carnegie Tech. N. Y. U. football game of November 17, 1928, however, he suffered head injuries and was carried to a hospital, where for weeks he lay in a comatose condition.

His doctor said he seemed to be suffering from "repeated bumps," but athletic authorities of the university were confident that he would be left him paralyzed or mentally unbalanced.

He still hoped in January of 1929 to recover and begin his pugilistic career, but doctors doubted that he could do so. He was discharged from the hospital and went to Miami Beach, Fla., to recuperate. A month later he returned to New York City.

University officials said Lassman had fully recovered, and he seemed to be in good health when he attended a university banquet here in March.

A few weeks later, however, he returned to a hospital for treatment, and in May he underwent an operation for removal of a cyst in his brain. The operation was called successful, and again he was said to be recuperating, after months of treatment and diagnosis by specialists.

Since then he had been that he was showing progress, but that his head injuries made it necessary for him to continue to rest. He served as assistant football coach at New York University last fall and was to have done so again this year.

Lassman's Body Is Sent Home.

BOSTON, July 7.—(UN)—A sorrowful little gathering—a distinct contrast to the jubilant throngs that greeted him on triumphant returns from the gridiron—met the body of Alfred "Al" Lassman, 24, of Brighton, when it arrived here tonight from northern Maine.

The somber coffin bearing the body of the former All-American football star of New York University who was drowned in Long Lake, Brighton, Maine, last night when his canoe capsized, was met by his mother and a small group of relatives and friends. The body was removed to a Brookline undertaking establishment pending completion of funeral arrangements by his family.

Brock, Ex-Cracker, In Piedmont League

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 7.—(AP)—Johnny Brock, former Southern Association catcher, and George Snider, 18-year-old right hander of the Philadelphia Athletics, will join the local club of the Piedmont League at once, it was announced today. Snider has been on the A's bench this season.

MIDGET WOLFGAST WINS.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 7.—(AP)—Midget Wolfgast, of Philadelphia, flyweight champion of the world in many quarters, decisively outpointed Roster Parra, of Chile, in a ten-round bout at the Oakland A. A. tonight. Wolfgast weighed 110; Parra 114.

JIMMY LONDOS AND DAVIS COURT CLASH TONIGHT

"Rough Richard" Confident He'll Beat Champion at Ball Park.

Jim Londos, the wrestling champion, will defend his title here tonight with Dick Daviscourt, the villain of the ring, as his opponent. The wrestling program will get started at 8:15 and will include a preliminary and a heavyweight semi-windup before the title bout. Spiller field is the site of the program.

Daviscourt, a formidable opponent for any champion, is expected to make the match the greatest one in which Londos has ever appeared here.

On their appearance here some three years ago Daviscourt defeated Londos. Since that time Londos has gone on to a higher peak. Daviscourt remained in virtual retirement on the coast but came back this season in better condition than ever.

The match was a much-sought-after one, a half dozen promoters seeking it. Daviscourt agreed to wrestle for his bare expenses in order to get the shot at Londos.

In the semi-windup Matchmaker Henry Weber has Pete Sauer, the German Oak, and Chief Tom Marvin, heavyweight Indian wrestler. Sauer and Marvin are both smooth heavyweights with good reputations. Their match will be a one-hour feature.

WANT THE WINNER.

Both the champion in the semi-windup are demanding that the winner of their match be given a shot at the winner of the Londos-Daviscourt contest. Weber has agreed and will try to schedule the bout as soon as the winners are known.

The main event, in which the title is at stake, will be a two-hour limit affair with Police Gazette rules in force.

Londos employs a Japanese toe hold with more efficiency than any other hold. He is versatile with them all but this new hold, which practically paralyzes the leg muscles, is likely to become as famous as the headlock of Ed Lewis and the scissors which Joe Stecher first brought into prominence.

HIS OWN HOLD.

Londos will not discuss his hold beyond saying that it is one he developed himself while working with the Japanese wrestlers, and that he is the only man in the game using it.

Daviscourt, "Rough Richard," evidences a disregard for the hold. "I am not worried about it," he said. "I don't think he will get that hold on me."

Daviscourt has a weight advantage of ten or more pounds and he plans to use it to his advantage. He is confident that he can take the title away from Londos and hold onto it for quite a time.

"I am a veteran at this game," Daviscourt said. "I have won the title many times and I think I am good for better than any of them. With any sort of break I will beat Londos tonight."

DAVIS COURT TRAINS.

Daviscourt has been working out at Hot Springs since he obtained the match and spent the last two days here training.

Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters and the Candler building soda fountain. Ladies are admitted to any seat in the house for $1. The outdoor arena at Spiller field affords excellent seats, about 9,000 being available.

Walter Johnson II Returns to Mound

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—It was only a few months ago that the great pitcher of the Senators, Walter Johnson, Jr., had ended before it was fairly begun. Last winter, the youngster, 15 years old, was run down by an automobile. Both legs were broken and it was feared for a time that one might have to be amputated.

Johnson, however, entirely recovered, he pitched two hitless innings for the Bethesda Juniors and proudest of all the spectators was Walter Johnson, Sr., who watched his leg by going to bat and running bases.

The youthful pitcher with the great name opened the game for Bethesda sandlotters and retired after two innings because his father felt he should take no chances with his leg by going to bat and running bases.

Injured

Head and Neck Badly Burned But Champion Is Not Bothered.

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn., July 7.—Bobby Jones suffering from a bad case of sunburn. That is the best news story of the day. It should take precedence over all reports of practice rounds and experting on the state of his golf game.

Bobby has played golf before and his game seemed to range all the way from spectacular to spotty. But not in 20 years has Bobby Jones suffered from sunburn.

The British open and amateur champion complained of a sore neck and forehead last night. This morning he appeared in the hotel lobby a moist, wobegone young man. His forehead was raw. So was his neck. Over face and neck he had spread a greasy ointment (name of remedy deleted because of the ethics of amateur golf in America). Around his neck under his collar was a white silk handkerchief which had absorbed quantities of the yellow grease.

Bobby carried his neck stiffly. When he looked to the right or left he turned his whole body. Job and his bolts never looked any more uncomfortable than Jones rode to Interlachen with Cyril Tolley and Don Moe. He said it was a new experience. This sunburn. He was not embarrassed by having acquired it.

SUNDAY'S SUN DID IT.

Bobby played two rounds Sunday here with no hat. Furthermore his shirt was open at the collar and he wore no tie. Bobby usually is the glass of fashion and the mold of form on the golf course and this flaunting of clothes is a new experience.

On the way to the club Bob stopped at a hat store and bought a cap about a size too large. It was his only headgear that felt comfortable. So when you see pictures of a chunky man wearing a cap too large for him it will be the British open champion.

Otherwise the health of the favorite is excellent. In New York he reported confidentially that although the Hoylelake affair was the meanest tournament in which he ever played, he had started negotiations with it. Coming home on the Europa, Bobby retired every night at 10:30. He ate heartily. He attended no ship parties. He soaked up rest.

ALL CHARGED UP.

Since leaving New York he has been pursuing the same system of storing up energy. He is rooming alone here and he is sleeping like a child. If you imagine that the human body is a storage battery of energy, then Robert has been getting himself all charged up for the big three-day run that starts Thursday. It does not now appear that he will be golf worth when he squares off for his third championship of 1930.

Bobby played in a rather light-hearted foursome with Leo Diegel against Horton Smith and Ed Dudley. Bobby sunburned and all did nothing but shoot a 70. That is two strokes under par. He had 2-4 for a 68 and the prodigious 365-yard par 3 hole, which he pulled 5 due to a spoon shot that flew under the pressure necessary to reach the green. Bobby stepped even with par until the 11th. Then he murdered the par 5 11th hole with an eagle three by laying a long iron approach shot close to the pin. Birdies on the 14th and 16th put him in position to score 35 due to a spoon shot that flew under the pressure necessary to reach the green. Bobby stepped even with par until the 11th.
